WATCH, RATE, AND REVIEW THE OTHER YOU DURING ITS OPENING WEEK HELPS INDEPENDENT FILM GAIN VISIBILITY ON STREAMING PLATFORMS, EARLY AUDIENCE SUPPORT IS CRITICAL TO THE FILM'S SUCCESS.

A sharp, funny, and thought-provoking exploration of motherhood, identity, and creative ambition, The Other You arrives on streaming platforms following an award-winning festival run that established it as one of the Mid-Atlantic region's most celebrated independent films. The film premiered at Washington, D.C.'s historic Avalon Theatre before an audience of more than 300 attendees and went on to receive:

- Best Metro DC Film at the 2025 DC Independent Film Festival - Washington DC
- Narrative Feature Award at the 2025 Chesapeake Film Festival - Easton, Maryland
- Best in Region at the 2025 Alexandria Film Festival - Alexandria, Virginia

What If the Life You Always Wanted Was Waiting Just Beyond a Door? The Other You follows Annie, a writer, wife, and mother of three who discovers a mysterious tiny door hidden in her closet. On the other side is a seemingly perfect version of her life: a loving husband, helpful children, and even a successful writing mentor living next door.

Perfection has a price. As cracks begin to appear in this dream world, Annie finds herself in a surreal battle for belonging against the one person standing in her way: an alternate version of herself.

Blending fantasy, comedy, and emotional truth, The Other You explores the universal question: What would happen if we could trade our lives for the ones we imagine are better? "Our film shines a light, through humor and surrealism, on the challenges women face balancing family, creativity, ambition, and identity," says director and producer Shoshana Rosenbaum. "At a moment when audiences are embracing new stories about reinvention and self-discovery in midlife, we hope The Other You contributes meaningfully to that conversation."

A Film Made by Women, About Women's Lives One of the film's most distinctive achievements is the creative team behind it. The lead creative team, including writer/producer Julie Gold, director/producer Shoshana Rosenbaum, producer Robin Noonan-Price, casting director/producer Kimberly Skyrme, cinematographer Anne Saul, and art director Alison Bauer, are all women over 40. Most are mothers themselves, bringing lived experience and authenticity to Annie's journey.

Many of the filmmakers first connected through Women in Film & Video-DC, demonstrating the power of regional collaboration and support for women working in the film industry. Shot entirely in Alexandria, Virginia, with a cast and crew drawn primarily from the Washington, D.C., Maryland, and Virginia region, The Other You showcases the depth of talent emerging from the Mid-Atlantic's thriving independent film community. Production was made possible in part through the Honfleur Women in Arts Grant, awarded by the Washington, D.C.-based ARCH Development Corporation.

Starring Acclaimed Regional Talent The film stars Beth Hylton, company member of Baltimore's Everyman Theatre, alongside Kris Arnold, Staci Dickerson, Vivienne Sievers, Dennis Courtis, and Jules Kanarek. The original score was composed by indie musician Nyles Lannon.

Stream The Other You Beginning October 27 Audiences in the U.S. and U.K. can stream The Other You starting October 27, 2026 on Amazon, Google Play, YouTube Movies & TV, Fandango at Home, and participating Cable VOD providers.
